The Law Regulating Newspapers and Periodicals

1 Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to continue their subscriptions

2 If subscribers order the discontinuance of their papers, the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid, the subscribers are responsible for all the numbers sent.

3 If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their papers from the office to which they are directed, they are held responsible till they have settled their bills, and ordered their papers discontinued

4 The Courts have decided that a refusal to take a newspaper or periodical from the Post Office with out notifying the publishers, and the payment of all arrearages, is a prima facie evidence of fraud

5 Subscribers to newspapers or periodicals removing are liable to pay so long as the paper or periodical may be sent to the residence of the party at the time of subscription, unless notice is sent of such removal to the publication office

American & Foreign Patents.
R. K. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of the U. S Patent Office Washington (under the Act of 1837.)
76 State Street, oppos te Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States also, in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, Caveats Specifications, Bonds Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar Assignments recorded at Washington

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more successful at the Patent Office than the subscriber and as success is the best proof of unions logue and ability he would add that he has abundant reason to believe and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able beyond question to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors

TESTIMONIALS

"I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse" CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents

I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure to them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

"Mr R. K. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending Such an unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges"

THE NEWYORK TRIBUNE.
LARGE PREMIUMS.
TO OUR FRIENDS

Hitherto we have never offered any one a premium for helping to extend the circulation of THE TRIBUNE We have printed the cheapest newspaper considering the outlay by which it is produced that was ever issued in any country, selling it for little more than the cost of the white paper has employed no agents to canvass for subscribers, and have allowed no compensation (beyond a copy of our paper) to any of the thousands of generous friends who have annually taken care that the number of copies of our several issues circulated in their respective neighborhoods should be at least maintained, and if possible increased We have been sparing even of verbal thanks to these friends but have none he less realized the fullness of our obligation for their earnest, unselfish, painstaking per sistent efforts

We propose for the present season only—in view of the hardness of the times, and the fact that we are enabled to buy white paper somewhat cheaper than we have hitherto done or can hope to do after the close of the War—to make some small acknowledgment—not so much a recompense as a slight testimonial—to those friends who shall see fit to exert themselves to obtain subscriptions (whether original or renewals) to our Weekly and Semi Weekly editions We do not know that we could offer anything of similar value more generally acceptable and useful than a Gold Pen of the best quality and finish We propose therefore to forward to each person who, during the two months ensuing, shall send us subscriptions and payments for THE TRIBUNE, as follows

Daily Tribune—$6 per Annum

IRON-CLAD STEAMERS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
Washington, February 20, 1862.

THE Navy Department will until the 20th of March next, receive propositions for the construction and equipment of iron-clad vessels for river harbor and coast defence

These vessels with the exception of those for the Mississippi river and its tributaries, will be propelled by screws, those for the Mississippi river and tributaries may be propelled by paddle wheels—The hulls will be either wholly of iron (which would be preferred) or of iron and wood combined, as the proposers may consider most suitable for the object proposed, but their sides and decks must be protected with an iron armament sufficient to resist the heaviest guns and shells

The vessels for the Mississippi river and its tributaries are not to draw more than six feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of nine knots per hour in still water, and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for six days steaming at that speed Their armament will consist of not less than six seven inch guns

The vessels for harbor defence are not to draw more than twelve feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of ten knots per hour in smooth water and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for seven days steaming at that speed—Their armament will consist of not less than from two to four eleven inch guns

The vessels for coast defence are not to draw more than twenty feet water when fully equipped and armed at which draft they are to be able to maintain a permanent speed of seven knots per hour at sea, and carry sufficient coal in the bunkers for twelve days steaming at that speed Their armament will consist of one or two fifteen or twenty inch guns

The guns of the vessels for harbor and coast defence are to train to all points of the compass with out change in the vessel's position

The proposals must state the number of vessels subject to the election of the Department which the party proposes to furnish complete in every respect, embracing armour plating, steam machinery and equipments of all kinds, ready for service excepting only the ordnance and ordnance stores and provisions the proposition must be accompanied by descriptions, specifications, drawings, and models such character that the work could be executed from them

The place of delivery must be stated, the time within which the vessel or vessels are to be completed and also the total sum to be paid for each

It will be stipulated in the contract that one-fifth the total amount will be retained by the Government until sixty days after the reception of the vessel in order to give a trial, the remaining payments to be made with due regard to the progress performance and progress of the work, the contract will also embrace forfeitures for failure to perform the conditions specified

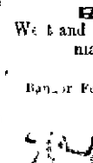

The bids must be accompanied by the guarantee required by law that, if a contract is awarded, it will be promptly executed and the names of the parties who are to become the sureties to the amount of the face of the contract will also be stated

The Department will consider any other proposition that may be presented in which the draft of vessels above named is not exceeded

The Department will be at liberty to accept or reject any or all the propositions. 3awsw 15

The Capture of Fort CLINCH.

Report of Com Dupont.

WASHINGTON, 10th

Capt Davis, late fleet captain of the South Atlantic squadron, arrived here to night, bringing an official despatch from Commodore Dupont, of which the following is a copy

Flagship Mohican,
Harbor of Fernandina, Florida,
March 4, 1862.

SIR—I had the honor to inform you in my last despatch that the expedition for Fernandina was equipped, and waiting only for suitable weather to sail for Port Royal

I have now the pleasure to inform you that I am in full possession of Cumberland Island and the Sound of Fernandina, and Amelia Island and the river and town of St Mary's

I sailed from Port Royal on the last day of February, in the Wabash, and on the 2d instant entered Cumberland Sound by St Andrew's Inlet in the Mohican, Commander S W Godon, on board of which vessel I have hoisted my flag

The fleet comprised the following vessels, sailing in the order in which they are named Ottawa, Mohican, accompanied by the Ellen, Seminole, Pawnee, Pocahontas, Flag, Florida, James Adger, Bienville, Alabama, Keystone State, Seneca, Wabash, Pembina, Isaac Smith, Penguin, Potomac, the armed cutter Henrietta, the armed transport McClellan (the latter having on board the battalion of marines under the command of Major Reynolds), and the transports Empress City, Marion, Star of the North, Belvidere, Boston and George's Creek, containing a brigade under the command of Brigadier General Wright

We came to anchor in Cumberland Sound at half past ten on the morning of the 2d, to make an examination of the channel, and wait for the pilot Here I learned from a contraband who had been picked up at sea by Commander Lanier and from the neighboring residents on Cumberland Island, that the rebels had abandoned in haste the whole of the defences of Fernandina, retreating from Amelia Island, carrying with them such of their munitions as precipitate flight would allow

The object of carrying the whole fleet through Cumberland Sound was to turn the heavy works on the south end of the Cumberland and the north end of Amelia Island, but on receiving this intelligence, I detached the gunboats and armed steamers of light draft from the main line, and placing them under the command of Commander Drayton of the steam sloop Pawnee I ordered him to push through the Sound at the utmost speed, to save private and public property from threatened destruction, to prevent the poisoning of wells and put a stop to all those outrages by the perpetration of which the lead ers of this nefarious rebellion hope to drive and exasperate the Southern people

In the meantime I went out of the Sound and came by sea to the entrance of this harbor In consequence of bad weather I was unable to cross the bar till this morning Commander Drayton, with the armed launches and cutters and the small armed companies from the Wabash, had arrived several hours before me Immediately on his entering the harbor, Commander Drayton sent Lieut White of the Ottawa, to hoist the flag on Fort Clinch—the first of the national forts on which the ensign of the Union was resumed its proper place since the first proclamation of the President of the United States was issued

A few scattering musket shots were fired from the town by the flying enemy When it was discovered that a railroad train was about to start, Commodore Drayton, on board the Ottawa, and Lieut commanding Stevens, chased it for two miles and fired several shells at it aiming at the locomotive, some of which took effect, and it was reported that the Hon David Yulee, late a Senator of the United States, from the State of Florida, escaped from this train and took to the bushes C R P Rogers pushing ahead with the launch, captured the rebel steamer Darlington, containing military stores, army wagons, &c., and fortunately secured the draw bridge, which was held during the night by the second launch of the Wabash There were passengers, women and children, in the Darlington, and the brutal captain suffered her to be fired upon, and refused to hoist a white flag notwithstanding the entreaties of the women No one was injured I send the captain of the steamer home, a prisoner His name is Jacob Brock, resident of Florida for 25 years

The same night commander C R P Rogers ascended the St Marys with the Ottoma and took possession of the town, driving out a picket of the enemy's cavalry

Early in the morning the town of Fernandina was also occupied by a party of seamen and marines from Commander Drayton's command In both places the inhabitants had fled by order of the rebel authorities

A company of seamen and marines under Lieut Miller, was sent from the Mohican to hold Fort Clinch It is reported to me by Lieut Commanding Dormer of the Huron, that the whole structure of the railroad on the Fernandina side, including the swinging draw bridge, is quite uninjured The rebels have done some damage to the trestle work on the other side of the river, but I am not yet informed of its extent Several locomotives, baggage cars, tenders, freight cars and some other property besides that found in the steamer Darlington have been recovered The whole number of guns discovered up to this time is 18, embracing heavy 32 pounders, 8 inch guns, and one 120 pounder rifled gun The towns of St Marys and Fernandina are uninjured

I visited the town, Fort Clinch and the earth works on the sea face of the Island It is impossible to look at these preparations for a vigorous defence, without being surprised that they should have been voluntarily deserted The batteries on the north and northeast shore are as complete as art can make them Six are well concealed and protected by ranges of sand hills in front, contain perfect shelter for the men and are so small and thoroughly covered by the natural growth and varied contour of the land, that to strike them from the water would be the mere result of chance A battery of six guns, the larger, and affording a better mark, is equally well sheltered and masked These batteries and the heavy guns mounted in Fort Clinch, command all the turnings in the main ship channel, and rake an approaching enemy Beside these, there was another battery of four guns on the south end of Cumberland Island, the fire from which would cross the channel inside the bar—The difficulties arising from the indirection of the channel, and from the shoalness of the bar, would have added to the defence by keeping the approaching vessels a long time exposed to their fire, under great disadvantages And what the State of an enemy had passed all these defences, they would have to encounter a well constructed and utterly masked battery at the turn, which commands the access to the inner anchorage—We are told that Gen Lee pronounced the place perfectly defensible We are not surprised at this, if it is true We captured Port Royal, but Fernandina and Fort Clinch have been given up to us

We had in the expedition Mr W H Dennis, an assistant in the coast survey, who possessed accurate local knowledge of a part of the ground we passed over, for which, indeed, he had made the topographical map under the direction of the superintendent He was zealous and active, and it gives me great pleasure to mention him

The Empire City, on board of which was General Wright, grounded on the bar As soon as he arrived in on another steamer, immediately steps were taken to transfer to him the forts and all authority of possession on the land I desire to speak here of the harmonious counsels and cordial co-operation which have marked, throughout, my intercourse with that able officer Our plans of action have been matured by mutual consulting, and have been carried into execution by mutual help

I take great pleasure in reminding the department that one principal and ultimate object of the naval expedition which I have the honor to command, was, in the first conception, to take and keep under control the line of sea coast of Georgia, knowing, to use the language of the original paper, that the naval power that controls the sea-coast of Georgia controls the State of Georgia

The report that the fortifications of St Simon's, manned with heavy columbiads, had been abandoned, we do not read me at Port Royal, is confirmed This being the case, the whole sea-coast of Georgia is now either actually in my possession, or under my control, and thus the views of the Government have been accomplished

Very respectfully,
Your most obedient servant,
[Signed] S F DUPONT,
Flag Officer Commanding Atlantic Blockading Squadron

To Hon Gideon Wells, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, D C

In Peace or War, on land or sea,
Our flag, the ægis of the free,
Bright emblem of Columbia's glory!
Shall tell to coming years the story,
How, stout of heart, and strong of hand,
The patriots of our native land
Bore it, the nation's hope and life,
On tented field, 'mid fearful strife,
Still on 'till through the sulphurous cloud
It broke in triumph Treason's shroud!

THE AMERICAN QUESTION IN PARLIAMENT.—The London American of Feb 12th (for a copy of which we are indebted to our former townsman Wm A Cooper Esq, of the firm of Songey, Bradley & Cooper, Shipbrokers, London) has the following statements in regard to the prevailing sentiment in the English Parliament

If the faintest hope lingered in the minds of the "Confederates" that England was coming to their rescue at an early day, the debate in Parliament of Thursday last must have dissolved it most effectually Not an encouraging word came from either side of either House Lords and Commons, Whigs and Tories, were alike inspired with the impression that the rebel communities have not yet given evidence of their power to maintain a separate establishment — Thus far, then, the chivalrous blandishments, the special pleading, and the generous expenditure of money on the part of the "Commissioners" have utterly failed to accomplish even the first step in the road to success The Emperor's speech was chilling enough to the tender hopes of Yancey, Mann, and Co, but with what icy coldness must the speeches of Thursday last have fallen upon their ardent temperaments" Mr Yancey has, we understand, retired in disgust from the arena of his late fruitless exploits; and left the duties of his office in the hands of his unpropitious and unappreciated colleague, the late occupant of Fort Warren From the reception thus far extended to Mr Mason, his presence is not likely to succeed in any direction where failure dogged the footsteps of Mr Yancey

If the Trent difficulty accomplished nothing farther, it brought the character of James M Mason into such prominent relief, that Englishmen now know what manner of man has been dispatched to them as the first Ambassador of a slave trading "Government" The act of an over zealous officer exalted a comparatively insignificant individual to an altitude which otherwise he could never have attained, but the prominence to which he has been elevated—thanks to the interests of humanity—reveals little else than defects the most revolting to the tastes and principles of the people to whom he was accredited as "Ambassador"

The expressions of Parliamentary leaders can not fail to have an important effect upon the spirits of the rebels at home At an early day in the history of the insurrection, the men who were the head and front of the offence promised their deluded followers that England and France were anxiously waiting an opportunity to recognize the new Government, and that, even though they were not kindly disposed toward a faction whose distinctive feature was the extension of slavery, their necessities would be sure to accomplish what might possibly be obnoxious to European integrity We have seen how their incipient hopes went down in darkness and we now behold with what decreasing favor their efforts are received by the two countries upon whose friendly action all their prospects have been founded They presumed upon the necessities of England and France, and they now learn that the manufacturers, especially those of the north, are glad to be relieved from the pressure of an overplus of raw material After waiting a twelvemonth for the market to be drained, they came suddenly to learn that, without their assistance, the supply was greater than the demand So vanished their faith in the omnipotence of the cotton monarchy Disappointed, chagrined at the little court paid to their ambitious sovereign, they sought by misrepresentation and falsehood to attain that which the most elaborate and munificent schemes of commerce could not accomplish With what cunning falsehoods and plausible devices they assailed the office of the Foreign Secretary in the hope of obtaining a single morsel of encouragement; but not even a crumb was thrown to them from the political table in Downing street And now that the English nation has spoken through the lips of her representatives at Westminster, even the vaunt hope which they still cherished has been taken from them

Saying the insignificant and frequently disproved statement of the member for Galway, not a word of encouragement for the rebels has been uttered Even Earl Derby though professing to be dissatisfied with the action of President Lincoln in the Trent affair, has nothing to say in behalf of the insurgents, whilst his ablest supporter in the Commons utters nothing that can give the slightest offence to the most sensitive of our loyal countrymen across the water, and Earl Russell gives expression to sentiments that must be accepted by the Americans as the most positive evidences that rulers and people here have no desire to take any step that could plausibly tend to a disturbance of the peaceful relations which have so long existed between the two countries.

The Pennsylvania railroads have made a profit of eleven millions and a quarter of dollars during the past year. A large portion of it came from the conveyance of troops and supplies for the army.

DESCRIPTION OF THE MERRIMAC.—A mechanic who left Norfolk under a flag of truce some four months since, claimed to have worked on the Merrimac, and gave the following description of the vessel at that time

"Her hull has been cut down to within three feet of her light water mark, and a bomb proof house built on her gun deck She is not iron-plated as yet Her bow and stern have been steel clad, with a projecting angle of iron, for the purpose of piercing a vessel Her armament consists of four 11-inch navy guns on each side, with 100-pounder Armstrongs at the bow and stern She has no masts, and only a pilot house and smoke stack are to be seen above the bomb-proof deck Her bomb-proof is three inches thick, and made of wrought iron"

After the above description was given, the Merrimac was altered and strengthened to a considerable extent, and entirely covered with an armor of three inch wrought iron plates

The steam iron-clad floating battery Monitor, which proved more than a match for the Merrimac, had just been completed by Mr Ericsson, and arrived at the seat of action in time to save the whole Federal fleet She was built under a contract with the Government, which stipulated that it should be tested in actual conflict with the guns of the enemy, and to be paid for only in case it successfully withstood the test She was armed with two 11 inch columbiads, which were furnished with four hundred wrought iron shot, each ball costing $47, and weighing 184 pounds These balls were made by forging square blocks of iron at the Novelty Works, New York, then turning them at the lathe The cost of the 400 amounted to $18 800 Cast iron shot are liable to break in pieces when fired against thick iron plates

A NEW PARTY.—The Lewiston Herald says

Since the firing of the first gun at Fort Sumter, there has been secretly forming a "don't hurt them" party * * Believers in the "Don't Hurt Them" theory are scattered all through the rebel states

There are not a few of such believers all through the loyal states, also

IMPORTANT TO GOVERNMENT CREDITORS We take the following from the Washington correspondence of the Philadelphia Inquirer

"The engraving and printing of the new Treasury Notes will not be awarded until Wednesday, the 6th inst, and it is calculated that several weeks will elapse before they can be furnished The first fifty millions issued will be used to pay debts due by the Quartermaster's Department, fourteen millions of which are owing in Philadelphia After this the next batch issued will be used in paying the Western and Southwestern troops, and then the troops on the Potomac will be paid This arrangement is considered equitable inasmuch as the Western troops have been fighting hard and receiving no pay, while the army of the Potomac has received its pay regularly The troops of this division will therefore not receive their pay before the first of April, if so soon"

THE NAVAL DISASTER.—The sloop-of-war Cumberland, destroyed by the rebel steamer Merrimac, was originally a frigate, and was built at Charlestown The frigate Congress, also destroyed, was built at Portsmouth in 1841 She carried fifty guns The Congress was in command of Commander William Smith, late of the receiving ship Ohio The Cumberland was under command of Commander John W Livingston She was repaired last summer

The Mexican question has started a new claimant for the throne of that "kingdom" in the person of Montezumacatzin, who states that he is a lineal descendant and sole heir of Montezuma At present he is a professor of grammar in the Indian College at the city of Mexico — Chimalpopocatzin (which signifies smoking buckler) may prove a formidable competitor to the Archduke Maximilian, and if a king should be imposed on that country, he certainly has superior claims, according to the principles of absolutism

GUERILLA WARFARE.—The Memphis Avalanche says

"We learn that some of our citizens are preparing for effective service on the Tennessee river They will go out in squads of not more than five or six Each man is a practiced shot with a rifle at long range and each will go prepared with not less than one hundred rounds — They will take no food but ground coffee, relying upon the citizens and their guns for food They propose, in these small squads, to guard the Tennessee river

They will take their opportunities from behind trees, logs, and in the narrow bends of the river, to pick off the Lincoln pilots They can plank a minnie ball in a sheet of foolscap paper, at a distance of six hundred yards, and we venture the assertion that such a corps of sharpshooters will be as great a terror to the enemy's boats as our guaboat were at Fort Donelson — Let each county bordering on the Tennessee river in West Tennessee send a squad of men on this duty, and the pilots will soon refuse to ascend a stream where death awaits them behind any big tree

A plausible scheme, but one that will notably fail!

JEFF'S MAINE LAW By an odd coincidence the journals of all the cities of the South, from Richmond to New Orleans have of late commenced a lively crusade against whisky It is instructive to observe the earnestness with which these echo to the doctrine of Father Mathew literate the arguments for teetotalism The holy Jeff was indeed able to report in his late message that "a tone of earnest piety has pervaded our people, but he might have added that it was accompanied by a tone of still more earnest potation. It appears that the presence of the rebel army in Virginia has caused no less than two hundred new distilleries to spring up in the State within the past six months And it was one of the most curious developments we have yet had that when the Union army entered Nashville the other day, their advent was hailed by Mayor Cheatman solely on the ground that it would give him power to put an end to the wholesale intoxication that was playing the devil with the city!

Finding moral suasion of no avail, the authorities at Richmond have recently ventured on prohibitory measures, and Jeff Davis, in his recent proclamation of martial law for the capital and its environs for ten miles, forbids all distillation and sale of spirituous liquors, "on account of the demoralization of the army and the prevalent disorder" Thus, of course, is only resorted to as a measure of desperation, but it is hard to conceive that he could have realized its full scope when he ventured to adopt it It is safe to say that without whiskey the rebellion never could have been set on foot It has had a prime influence in forming the social habits of the South, and without it, it would have been impossible to "fire the Southern heart"—N Y Times.

It is stated that when communication between Fort Pulaski and Savannah was cut off the fort had only a ten days' supply of ammunition. Thank Jupiter, we suppose, upon how fast they will fire.

☞ The Bridgton Reporter speaking of a recent lecture, says—"The hall was lighted by the smiles of four women and by Kerosene lamps"

KINDNESS AND CRUELTY TO ANIMALS Yesterday we noticed a farmer feeding his oxen with ears of corn from his own hand, in front of our office—nothing very remarkable or strange in that, surely At the same time a farmer drove a yoke of oxen by and with the most startling cries and goading, shocked the passers by with his heartless abuse "A merciful man is merciful to his beast" Which of these two farmers is the most respectable and kindly man? So does a man tell the story of his character by the simplest and commonest acts

—Lewiston Journal

We feel fully authorized to say that the vigilant eye of the Secretary of War is on a few gents from this State, who are figuring under Gen Butler, with a determination to have none but men of undoubted loyalty "on guard" in this hour of peril —Bath Times.

Reform of the Sutler System—News from the Seat of War—Centreville Occupied by the Union Troops—Manassas Evacuated by the Rebels.

WASHINGTON, 10th

Lieu J C Chapin, commanding steamer Valley City, off Roanoke Island, writes to Commodore Goldsborough, under date of February 7th noticing a magnanimous act of bravery by John Davis, gunner's mate, on board his vessel At the taking of Elizabeth City, he says John Davis was at his station during the engagement in the magazine, issuing powder, when a shell from the enemy's battery penetrated into the magazine, and exploded outside of it he threw himself over a barrel of powder, protecting it with his own body from the fire, while at the same time passing out the powder for the guns

Commodore Goldsborough, in transmitting his letter to the Navy Department, says, "It affords me infinite pleasure to forward this communication to the Navy Department, to whose especial consideration I beg leave to recommend the gallant and noble sailor alluded to", and adds in a postscript, "Davis actually seated himself on the barrel, the top being out, and in this position he remained until the flames were extinguished"

The chief engineer of the Monitor says that three balls from that vessel passed through the Merrimac The Monitor suffered very little, although she was struck 23 times

In the House, the sutler system was discussed a long time, and passed after being amended It requires a schedule of the articles permitted to be held, together with the prices to be paid, to be prominently posted Sutlers are prohibited from farming out their office, nor are they allowed to sell to soldiers an amount exceeding one fourth of their monthly pay, nor shall the sutler have a lien on the same

WASHINGTON, 11th—10 A M

A telegraph from Fortress Monroe this morning reports all quiet there and at Newport News

Manassas has been evacuated by the rebels, and our forces hove taken possession

NEW YORK, 11th

The Tribune's Washington despatch says the Light cavalry have been sent in pursuit to harrass and track the rebel retreat It is supposed to be their design to fall back, first upon Fredericksburg, and then upon Richmond Our troops occupy Centreville and Fairfax Court House to night

Two companies under Major Hatfield were ordered yesterday morning to go to Fairfax Court House by the old Braddock road When within a mile of the place they met the enemy, who retreated before them At five o'clock last evening they entered the Court House, followed by a full regiment The two companies under Major Hatfield were then ordered back to Fair Oaks Cross Roads, where they met the body of the regiment, and bivouacked for the night.

At noon to-day Hatfield's company was within sight of the village, and found that it had been evacuated in the night, leaving tents and other property behind in large quantities

Lieut. Alexander of the Lincoln Cavalry, arrived soon after with a detachment of men, and pressed on as far as Cub's Run, three miles above Centreville, where he discovered a vast number of tents left standing The enemy had retreated towards Gardensville

There was a fight at Saugerties Station yesterday between General Kearney's brigade and an equal number of rebel regiments The latter were driven back Several were killed on each side

WASHINGTON, 11th

We are not yet able to give reliable details of the occupation of Manassas, and its occupation by our troops The whole fortifications were abandoned, and everything possible burned

FORTRESS MONROE, 10th,
via Baltimore, 11th

The officers and men of the Monitor speak in the highest terms of her performance, and think they might have taken the Merrimac without much difficulty, had they been allowed the opportunity

BOSTON, 11th

Information from Fort Warren states that Generals Buckner and Tilghman were put in close confinement yesterday The cause is not stated

The occupation of Manassas, and the series of victories now being reported, cause a highly patriotic feeling all over New England

Secretary J W Chapman, arrived at New York this evening, reports that, on 2d inst, fell in with frigate Vermont, lay by her until the 4th lat her in lat 38 45 lon 68, drifting SSE at two knots per hour, rudder, sails and anchors gone, and entirely helpless She wants powerful tugs at once

ST LOUIS, 11th

A special despatch to the Democrat from Cairo says Two Union men reached here from New Orleans today They left that city on the 26th of February and by careful travelling were enabled to get off in safety Both spent the winter in New Orleans where the greatest excitement and distress prevailed The approaches to the city on the South were pretty well defended On the North, the fortifications ran back to Carrollton

The only persons in the city not regularly enlisted are Jews, The city was also full of secret Union clubs At least 12,000 persons belong to these clubs

The condition of things was no better at Memphis, The Memphis Appeal advocates the burning of the city as the last resort, but the Mayor has issued a proclamation that any persons detected in setting fire to houses should be immediately hung

Gen Beauregard had left Jackson, to take command at Island No 10 A large number of transports was lying at the foot of the Island, to take off the troops, in case of defeat.

There is no news from Gen Curtis as yet

CENTREVILLE, Va, 11

Yesterday morning forces amounting to upwards of 2000 proceeded to Centreville, and occupied the village about 4 o clock in the afternoon It was entirely deserted

The entire command then proceeded to Manassas, arriving there in the evening The rebels had destroyed as much of their property as they could not carry away, by fire and otherwise The bridges, railroad tracks and depots in the vicinity were seriously damaged Nothing but ruin and desolation were apparent

STENMAN'S DEPOT,
Five miles from Winchester, 11

The forces under Gens Hamilton and Williams, constituting an armed reconnoissance, has reached this point without any serious opposition

WASHINGTON, 11th.

Official information received to-day reports that the enemy formerly encamped back of and below Occoquan, have retreated, destroying everything they could not carry on their backs — They left on Saturday and our troops took possession this morning and were welcomed by part of the inhabitants with great joy Every boat in the vicinity and anything that would float, had been destroyed The rebels told the villagers that they were going to fall back on the Rappahannock

A call from the Governor of Virginia on the militia of the State for 10,000 men was proclaimed in the streets of Occoquan on the 9th by an official, who immediately departed Nearly all the able bodied men of the village left with the army A few refused to go The rebels force which retreated was composed of three Texan, one Georgian and one Mississippi regiment, and the Hampton legion

Com Vanderbilt gave notice to-day to the Post Master General that he would carry the Central American and South Pacific mails on his line of steamers provided he could be protected against parties who are smuggling California mails over his line, for which he received no payment

The following is the official report of General Curtis to Gen Halleck

HEADQUARTERS of the Army of the Southwest, Pea Ridge, Ark, March 9th

GENERAL On Thursday the 6th inst, the enemy commenced an attack on my right wing, assailing and following the rear guard of a detachment under general Sigel, to my main on Sugar Creek Hollow but ceased firing when he met my reinforcements, about 4 o'clock P M During the night I became convinced that he had moved on so as to attack my right or rear Therefore, early on the 7th I ordered a change of front to the right, my right, which thus became my left, still resting on Sugar Creek Hollow This brought my line across Pea Ridge, with my new right resting on the head of Cross Timber Hollow, which is the head of Big Sugar Creek I also ordered an immediate advance of the cavalry and light artillery under Col Osterhaus, with orders to attack and break what I supposed would be the new formed line of the enemy This movement was in progress when the enemy, at 11 o clock, A M, commenced an attack on my right The fight continued mainly at these points during the day

The enemy having gained the point held by command of Col Carr at Cross Timber Hollow, was entirely repulsed, with the fall of the commander Mat ulloch in the centre, by the forces under Col Davis

The plan of attack on the centre was gallantly carried forward by Col Osterhause, who was immediately sustained and supported by Col Davis entire division, supported also by Gen Sigel's command, which had remained until near the close of the day on the left

Col Carr's division held their right under galling and continuous fire, all day In the event of the fire having entirely ceased in the centre, and the right being now on the left I reinforced the right by a portion of the 2d division under Gen Asboth

Before the day closed I was convinced that the enemy had concentrated his main force on the right I commenced another change of front, forward so as to face the enemy where he had deployed on my right flank in a strong position The change had only been partially effected, but was in full progress, when, at sunrise on the 8th, my right and centre renewed the firing, which was immediately answered by the enemy with renewed energy, along the whole extent of his line

My left, under Gen Sigel, moved close to the hills occupied by the enemy, driving him from the heights, and advancing steadily towards the head of the Hollow, I immediately ordered the centre and right wing forward—the right turning the left of the enemy and cross firing on his centre. This final position of the enemy was in the arc of a circle. A charge of infantry, extending throughout the whole line, completely routed the whole rebel force, which retired in great confusion, but rather nearly, through the deep and impassable defiles of Cross Timber

Our loss is heavy; that of the enemy cannot be ascertained, for their dead are scattered over a large field Their wounded, too, may many of them be lost, and perish

Their force is scattered in all directions, but I think his main force has returned to the Boston Mountains. General Sigel follows him towards Keitsville, while my cavalry is pursuing him towards the mountains, scouring the country, bringing in prisoners and trying to find the rebel Major General Van Dorn, who had command of the entire rebel force at this, the battle of Pea Ridge

I have not, as yet, a statement of the dead and wounded, so as to justify a report, but I will refer you to a despatch which I will forward very soon

The officers and soldiers displayed such unusual gallantry, that I hardly dare to make distinctions I must, however, name the commanders of divisions General Sigel gallantly commanded the right, and drove back the left wing of the enemy, General Asboth who was wounded in the arm in his gallant effort to reinforce the right, Colonel, and acting Brigadier General Davis, who commanded the centre, where McCulloch fell on the 7th, and pressed forward the centre on the 8th, Colonel, and acting Brigadier General, Carr, was also wounded in the arm, and was under the continuous fire of the enemy during the two hardest days of the struggle.

Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio and Missouri may proudly share the honor of the victories which their gallant heroes won over the combined forces of Van Dorn Price and McCulloch at Pea Ridge, in the mountains of Arkansas

I have the honor to be, General,
Your obedient servant
(Signed) SAMUEL R. CURTIS,
Brigadier General

BUNKER HILL, 11th

The intelligence of the evacuation of Winchester yesterday, was premature It was Berryville that the reconnoissance reported evacuated The latest intelligence from Winchester is to the effect that that town is occupied by at least one brigade of infantry Other troops are also there There is a strong suspicion that a portion of the forces which evacuated Centreville have been ordered to reconnoiter Winchester

Our pickets were undisturbed last night An active scouting was continually kept up

NEW YORK, 11

Steamer Philadelphia arrived to night from Fort Pickens 1st inst, Tortugas 4th and Key West 6th

Gen Arnold is in command at Fort Pickens, Brown having sailed for New York

Contrabands from Pensacola report that a rebel regiment had left and two unarmed regiments had arrived Anderson was to be court martialed for commencing the bombardment January 1st

Seven Northern men, deserters from the rebels at Pensacola are passengers in the Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, 11th

The Secretary of War desires proposals for the immediate construction of ten gunboats of the same description of those now in use in Ohio and on the Cumberland Proposals may be sent by telegraph, and must specify the price and the time when they will be ready for use

(Signed) E M STANTON,
Secretary of War

LEXINGTON Va, 11th

Colonel Geary, acting Brigadier General of the troops here, made a personal reconnoissance yesterday as far as Easton Mills The track of the retreating enemy was blackened with the ashes of granaries the ashes of hay and grain stacks, fences, &c It was found that the bridge over Goose Creek had been burned after our occupation here on Saturday The enemy have completely fallen back

The command continues to make captures from rank secessionists The loyal feeling is growing, and many persons come forward to take the oath of allegiance daily

Colonel Geary with some of his officers and a detachment of the 1st Michigan cavalry rode to Ball's Bluff to day, and buried the whitened bones of the brave Union soldiers who fell upon that field in October last Impressive remarks preceded this humane act, and a monument of gross rebel neglect was hidden from human sight

A despatch from Fortress Monroe this evening says that all was quiet in that vicinity

A flag of truce was received to-day from Craney Island No information was received about the injury to the Merrimac She reached Norfolk on Sunday evening, from which it may be inferred that she was not capable of making very good time

When some time ago it was stated in the correspondence that the rebels were falling back from Manassas, the assertion was industriously contradicted, but there is now satisfactory evidence to show that the main body left their lines nearly two weeks ago

The roads in Virginia are improving

The whereabouts of the rebels who retreated from Manassas is a subject of earnest speculation

Eleven prisoners captured in the vicinity of Bunker's Station, on the Orange & Alexandria Railroad, was brought here to-day They were roughly clad

All is quiet on the line of the Potomac to night.

The Quartermaster General advertises for two light draft steamers suited for towing boats at Ship Island He invites proposals

Captain Buchanan, who commanded the Merrimac on the first day of the fight, is reported to have been wounded Captain Jones commanded the Merrimac on Sunday

Six Southern men voted yea and nine nay in the House to-day, on the President's emancipation resolution The others from the border States were not in their seats.

FORTRESS MONROE, 11

All quiet here up to noon to day The British sloop of war Rinaldo sailed this forenoon A flag of truce has just been sent to Craney Island

The papers of the frigate Cumberland having gone down with her it is impossible to obtain a list of the killed and missing The latest and most reliable account is 116, and it will probably be reduced to 100 The names can only be ascertained at the Navy Department by comparison of the pay rolls

Early yesterday morning a small sailboat arrived at Newport News wharf containing two men and a woman, who represented that they supposed the place to be in possession of the Confederate forces, and wanted to sell some produce and establish a store They were soon informed of their mistake, much to their chagrin, and conveyed to the headquarters of Gen Mansfield. They were brought here by the steamer Express this afternoon and taken before Gen Wool After the party had discovered their mistake, they represented that they were Unionists, who had been called to it over and over again, and he thought the matter ought to be looked into.

Mr Grimes said in regard to the disaster at the mouth of the Mississippi, the government had no alternative The responsibility of the late order rested on the government for not long ago sending a military expedition against Norfolk. The officers of the Navy have been ready at all times to break the Potomac blockade, and the flotilla was under orders for several days for that purpose, but a superior military officer who had command of all the forces forbade the expedition. The responsibility does not rest on the Naval Department.

Mr. Wilson reported a joint resolution authorizing the Secretary of War to accept State appropriations for volunteers, and apply the same as directed by said States.

A bill for the purchase of coin was taken up. An amendment was moved increasing the amount from twenty to fifty millions.

The morning hour having expired the confiscation bill was taken up

Mr Carlisle spoke against the bill as unconstitutional

The consideration of the bill for the purchase of coin was then resumed

Mr Fessenden's amendment increasing the amount to $60,000,000 was adopted, and the bill passed

The report of the conference committee on the legislative appropriation bill was then agreed to

The bill reducing the expenses of the sales of public lands was passed

The following amendment to the confiscation bill was ordered to be printed "Strike out first section and insert 'The present property moneys stocks, credits, effects of every kind and nature, wheresoever situated, belonging to persons who have heretofore held office under the Government or State, and all persons who now or may hereafter hold office under the so-called Confederate States or any State in rebellion, or are, or may be engaged in resisting the Federal Government shall be confiscated, such confiscation to take immediate effect on commission of the act, and the right and title to personal property of such persons shall cease and rest in the United States.

HOUSE.

Mr Baker of New York introduced a bill which was referred to the Committee of the Whole on the State of the Union for the establishment of national foundries at Chicago Pittsburgh and Poughkeepsie

The bill proposes an appropriation of half a million for each, and also proposes the establishment of an arsenal and armory at Columbus, Ohio, appropriating half a million also for establishing a depot for saltpetre, powder factories and magazines at Indianapolis, and for a powder factory at Trenton, N J appropriating for each $200,000

The House by two majority, refused to postpone until Monday

The resolution being now open for debate Mr Bain of Virginia, offered the following proviso That nothing herein shall be construed to imply that Congress will consent to any partition of the territory now held by the United States On the contary, it is again affirmed as the unalterable resolution of this House to prosecute the war until the Constitution is restored to its ancient supremacy over every State right fully a part of the Union

Mr Pendleton of Ohio, suggested an amendment that Congress in order to redeem this pledge at its present session, ought to pass a bill for the levying and collecting of a tax within the current year for payment of the pecuniary aid so tendered to the States

Mr Wycliffe of Ky opposed the pending resolution as unwise and unconstitutional

Mr Biddle of Pa spoke against and Messrs Diven of New York and Olin of New Jersey in favor of the resolution

Mr Crittenden addressed the House in opposition to the resolution

Mr Fisher of Delaware favored the resolution

Mr Hickman of Pennsylvania did not consider the resolution of any great practical importance but would vote for it

After further debate the question was put, and the resolution passed, 88 to 31

BOOTS AND SHOES

MADE ON

[From J. V. C. Smith, M. D., formerly Mayor of Boston.]

PLUMER'S PATENT BOOTS.

The Undersigned has worn a pair of these IMPROVED BOOTS, and feels grateful to the inventor for the comfort derived from them. The nice adjustment of the sole to every part of the under surface of the foot, is an important circumstance which seems to have been entirely overlooked till Dr. Plumer planned his Last and Boot upon truly scientific principles.

Those who have once had an opportunity to test the real advantages of these Philosophically made Boots, will hardly be reconciled to wear any other.

J. V. C. SMITH.

BOSTON, July 26, 1861.

J. C. PLUMER, M. D.,

Dear Sir: I am greatly delighted with your newly invented boots which I have worn during the past winter, and only wonder that the world should have been so stupid as not to have made the discovery half a century ago. Any one with a grain of common sense and a moments reflection, cannot fail to see that your "PATENT BOOTS AND SHOES" are perfectly adapted to the foot (that wonderful piece of Nature's Mechanism,) giving to every portion of it a full and equal support; and I am sure that those who once make trial of your new invention will never go back to the old fashioned boots or shoes, which are so prolific of Corns, Bunions, and a thousand other troubles. Your "Patent Boots" seems to be part and parcel of our Physical structure, supporting the foot firmly, giving steadiness to the gait, and promoting human comfort to an eminent degree, especially in walking over rough surfaces.

I wish I knew of some means by which I could make known to every man, woman and child in Christendom, the nature and importance of your invention.

Very truly yours,
MORRIS MATTSON, M. D.
65 Summer Street.

RUTLAND, July 12, 1860.

DR. PLUMER—

Dear Sir: Having learned the principle upon which your "Anatomical Last" is made, I was favorably impressed as to its efficiency in relieving a difficulty which all have experienced, who have to walk considerably, viz: severe pain in the feet after much walking. After having worn the boots made upon the "Anatomical Last," I found my anticipations more than realized. I can walk nearly all day without experiencing the above named difficulty in the least degree. I also escaped the torturing process of breaking in my boots, for they were as easy at first as after they had been worn.

Truly Yours, C. H. GURBANK, M. D.
Corner of Congress and Temple Streets.

DR. SWEET'S

Infallible Liniment!

Great External Remedy

For Rheumatism, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, Stiff Neck and Joints, Sprains, Bruises, Cuts and Wounds, Piles, Headache, and all Rheumatic and Nervous Disorders,

FOR all of which it is a speedy and certain remedy, and never fails. This Liniment is prepared from the recipe of Dr. Stephen Sweet, of Connecticut, the famous bone setter, and has been used in his practice for more than twenty years with the most astonishing success.

AS AN ALLEVIATOR OF PAIN it is unrivalled by any preparation before the public, of which the most skeptical may be convinced by a single trial.

This Liniment will cure rapidly and radically, RHEUMATIC DISORDERS of every kind, and in thousands of cases where it has been used, it has never been known to fail!

For NEURALGIA, it will afford immediate relief in every case, however distressing.

It will relieve the worst cases of HEADACHE in three minutes, and is warranted to do it.

TOOTHACHE also will it cure instantly.

For NERVOUS DEBILITY and GENERAL LASSITUDE arising from imprudence or excess, this Liniment is a most happy and unfailing remedy. Acting directly upon the nervous tissues, it strengthens and revivifies the system, and restores it to elasticity and vigor.

FOR PILES—As an external remedy, we claim that it is the best known, and we challenge the world to produce an equal. Every victim of this distressing complaint should give it a trial, for it will not fail to afford immediate relief, and in a majority of cases will effect a radical cure.

QUINSY AND SORE THROAT are sometimes extremely malignant and dangerous, but a timely application of this Liniment will never fail to cure.

SPRAINS are sometimes very obstinate, and enlargement of the joints is liable to occur if neglected. The worst case may be conquered by this Liniment in two or three days.

BRUISES, CUTS, WOUNDS, SORES, ULCERS BURNS AND SCALDS, yield readily to the wonderful healing properties of DR. SWEET'S INFALLIBLE LINIMENT, when used according to directions. Also, CHILBLAINS, FROSTED FEET, and INSECT BITES AND STINGS.

Every Horse Owner

should have this remedy at hand, for its timely use at the first appearance of Lameness will effectually prevent those formidable diseases, to which all horses are liable, and which render so many otherwise valuable horses nearly worthless.

Over four hundred voluntary testimonials to the wonderful curative powers of this Liniment have been received within the last two years, and many of them from persons in the highest ranks of life.

CAUTION.

To avoid imposition, observe the signature and likeness of Dr. Stephen Sweet on every label, and also "Stephen Sweet's Infallible Liniment" blown in the glass of each bottle, without which none are genuine. RICHARDSON & CO.,

PROF. WOOD'S

RESTORATIVE CORDIAL

BLOOD RENOVATOR,

Is precisely what its name indicates, for while pleasant to the taste it is revivifying, exhilarating and strengthening to the vital powers.—It also revivifies, reinstates and renews the blood in all its original purity, and thus restores and renders the system invulnerable to attacks of disease. It is the only preparation ever offered to the world in a popular form so as to be within the reach of all. So chemically and skillfully combined as to be the most powerful tonic, and yet so perfectly adapted as to act in perfect accordance with the laws of nature and hence soothe the weakest stomach, and tone up the digestive organs, and allay all nervous and other irritation. It is also perfectly exhilarating in its effects, and yet it is never followed by lassitude or depression of spirits. It is composed entirely of vegetables, and those combining having powerful tonic and soothing properties, and consequently can never injure. Such a remedy has long been felt to be a desideratum in the medical world, both by the thoroughly skilled in medical science and also by all who have suffered by debility; for it needs no medical skill or knowledge even to see that debility follows all attacks of disease, and lays the unguarded system open to the attacks of many of the most dangerous diseases to which poor humanity is constantly liable. Such, for example as the following: Consumption, bronchitis, indigestion, dyspepsia, loss of appetite, faintness, nervous irritability, neuralgia, palpitation of the heart, melancholy, hypochondria, night sweats, languor, giddiness, and all that class of cases, so fearfully fatal if unattended to in time, called female weaknesses and irregularities. Also, liver derangements or torpidity, and liver complaints, diseases of the kidneys, scalding or incontinence of the urine, or any general derangement of the urinary organs, pain in the back, side and between the shoulders, predisposition to slight colds, hacking and continued cough, emaciation, difficulty of breathing, and indeed we might enumerate many more still, but we have space only to say it will not only cure the debility following chills and fever, but prevent all attacks arising from Miasmatic influences, and cure the diseases at once, if already attacked. And as it acts directly and persistently upon the biliary system, arousing the liver to action, promoting in fact all the excretions and secretions of the system, it will infallibly prevent any deleterious consequences following upon change of climate and water, hence all travelers should have a bottle with them, and all should take a table spoonful at least before eating. As it prevents costiveness, strengthens the digestive organs, it should be in the hands of all persons of sedentary habits—students, ministers, literary men. And all ladies not accustomed to much out-door exercise should always use it. If they will, they will find an agreeable, pleasant, and efficient remedy against those ills which rob them of their beauty, for beauty cannot exist without health, and health cannot exist while the above irregularities continue. Then again the cordial is a perfect mother's relief. Taken a month or two before the final trial, she will pass the dreadful period with perfect ease and safety. There is no mistake about it, this cordial is all we claim for it. Mothers, try it! And to you we appeal to detect the illness or decline, not only of your daughters, before it be too late, but also your sons and husbands, for while the former, from false delicacy, often goes down to a premature grave rather than let their condition be known in time, the latter are often so mixed up with the excitement of business that if it were not for you they too would travel in the same downward path, until too late to arrest their fatal fall. But the mother is always vigilant, and to you we confidently appeal; for we are sure your never failing affection will unerringly point you to Prof. Wood's Restorative Cordial and Blood Renovator as the remedy which should be always on hand in time of need. O. J. WOOD, Proprietor, 444 Broadway, New York, and 114 Market Street, St. Louis, Mo., and sold by all good Druggists.

MESSRS. W. E. HAGAN & CO.,

I hereby certify that my Hair having become gray and my head partially bald, I bought from Henry Reynolds, Druggist, one four bit bottle of HEIMSTREET'S INIMITABLE HAIR RESTORATIVE. By its use my Hair was restored to its original color and thickness; it removed all dandruff, arrested its falling and gave it a rich, glossy appearance. Its effects were entirely different from any Hair Preparation I ever used before. I know of several ladies and gentlemen, my intimate friends who all speak of the "Inimitable" as being the best and cheapest Hair Preparation in our market. I can fully recommend it, and will refer any one to Henry Reynolds, Druggist, for the truth of my statements. WILLIAM BOSBYSHALL.

I have never used a hair preparation that I liked so well. It has completely restored every hair that was grey to the color it was in girlhood; and has brought it out thick and healthy. I was induced to use the article by Mr. Reynolds, your Agent here. If this letter will be of service, you may publish it.

THAT HAS
Stood the Test of Years,

And grows more and more popular every day!

AND testimonials, new, and almost without number, might be given from ladies and gentlemen, in all grades of society, whose united testimony none could resist, that Prof. Wood's Hair Restorative will restore the bald and gray, and preserve the hair of the youth to old age, in all its youthful beauty.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. Dec. 21, 1858.

Prof. Wood:—Thee wilt please accept a line to inform thee that the hair on my head all fell off over twenty years ago, caused by a complicated chronic disease, attended with an eruption on the head. A continual course of suffering through life having reduced me to a state of dependence, I have not been able to obtain stuff for caps, neither have I been able to do them up, in consequence of which my head has suffered extremely from cold. This induced me to pay Briggs & Hodges almost the last cent I had on earth for a two dollar bottle of thy Hair Restorative, about the first of August last. I have faithfully followed the directions, and the bald spot is now covered with hair thick and black, though short. It is also coming in all over my head. Feeling confident that another large bottle would restore it entirely and permanently, I feel anxious to persevere in its use, and being destitute of means to purchase any more, I would ask thee if thee wouldst not be willing to send me an order on thine agents for a bottle, and receive to thyself the scripture declaration—"the reward is to those that are kind to the widow and the fatherless."

Thy friend, SUSANNAH KIRBY.

LIGONIER, Noble Co., Indiana, Feb. 5, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: In the latter part of the year 1852, while attending the State and National Law School of the State of New York, my hair from a cause unknown to me, commenced falling off very rapidly, so that in the short space of 6 months the whole upper part of my scalp was almost entirely bereft of its covering, and much of the remaining portion upon the side and back part of my head shortly after became gray, so that you will not be surprised when I tell you that upon my return to the State of Indiana my more casual acquaintances were not so much at a loss to discover the cause of the change in my appearance, as my more intimate acquaintances were to recognize me at all.

I at once made application to the most skillful physicians in the country, but, receiving no assurance from them that my hair could again be restored, I was forced to become reconciled to my fate, until, fortunately, in the latter part of the year 1857, your Restorative was recommended to me by a druggist, as being the most reliable Hair Restorative in use. I tried one bottle, and found to my great satisfaction that it was producing the desired effect. Since that time I have used seven dollars worth of your Restorative, and as a result have a rich coat of very soft black hair, which no money can buy.

As a mark of my gratitude for your labor and skill in the production of so wonderful an article I have recommended its use to many of my friends and acquaintances, who, I am happy to inform you, are using it with like effect.

Very respectfully yours, A. M. LATTA,
Attorney and Counsellor at Law.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small. The small holds ½ a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle. the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for three dollars per bottle

Best Mechanical Paper in the World.

SEVENTEENTH YEAR.

VOLUME VI—NEW SERIES.

A NEW VOLUME of this widely circulated paper commences on the first of January. It is published WEEKLY, and every number contains sixteen pages of useful information, and from five to ten original engravings of new inventions and discoveries' all of which are prepared expressly for its columns.

To the Mechanic and Manufacturer.

No person engaged in any of the mechanical or manufacturing pursuits should think of doing without" the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN. It costs but four cents per week; every number contains from six to ten engravings of new machines and inventions, which cannot be found in any other publication. It is an established rule of the publishers to insert none but original engravings, and those of the first class in the art, drawn and engraved by experienced persons under their own supervision.

To the Inventor.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN is indispensable to every inventor, as it not only contains illustrated descriptions of nearly all the best inventions as they come out, but each number contains an Official List of the claims of all the Patents issued from the United States Patent Office during the week previous; thus giving a correct history of the progress of inventions in this country. We are also receiving, every week, the best scientific journals of Great Britain, France, and Germany; thus placing in our possession all that is transpiring in mechanical science and art in these old countries. We shall continue to transfer to our columns copious extracts from these journals of whatever we may deem of interest to our readers.

Chemists, Architects, Millwrights and Farmers.

The SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN will be found a most useful journal to them. All the new discoveries in the science of chemistry are given in its columns, and the interests of the architect and carpenter are not overlooked; all the new inventions and discoveries appertaining to these pursuits being published from week to week. Useful and practical information pertaining to the interests of millwrights and mill-owners will be found published in the Scientific American, which information they cannot possibly obtain from any other source. Subjects in which planters and farmers are interested will be found discussed in the Scientific American; most of the improvements in agricultural implements being illustrated in its columns.

TERMS.

To mail subscribers; Two Dollars a year, or one Dollar for six months. One Dollar pays for one complete volume of 416 pages; two volumes comprise one year. The volumes commence on the first of January and July. Specimen copies will be sent gratis to any part of the country. Also a pamphlet of instruction to inventors about obtaining patents sent free.

Western and Canadian money or Post-office stamps taken at par for subscriptions. Canadian subscribers will please to remit twenty-five cents extra on each year's subscription to prepay postage.

DUPONT'S SPHERES.

AN equal and normal circulation of the blood is health. An abnormal, that is to say, an excessive or deficient circulation or stagnation of the blood, is disease. To illustrate—torpidity of the Liver is caused by stagnation of the blood in that organ; diseases of the Kidneys, Inflammation of the Lungs, Diseases of the Heart, &c., by the same cause, viz: Improper Circulation; and from the same cause spring all minor forms of disease. To discover a certain cure, then, for these diseases, the first great enquiry necessarily is, What causes the blood to circulate?

For centuries it has been a matter of much study among scientific and medical men; and whole lives of experiments have been made and much thought expended upon the enquiry, it has remained for this century among its other wonderful increase in knowledge, to make this grand discovery, also.

Acknowledging that life is the gift of the Creator and that "in Him we live and move and have our being," we still venture the remark, that as the planets move in their spheres, and all vegetable life is governed by certain absolute laws, so human life is traceable to a fixed cause, which remove or destroy, and death, the certain effect, follows.

Analysis of the red corpuscles of the blood show them to be compounds of iron, sulphur and phosphorus.

The air we breathe, we know to contain a very large proportion of oxygen.

Oxygen brought in contact with a metal excites or emits electricity.

Electricity brought in contact with a muscular fiber, causes it to contract.

These facts being indisputable, we have now the solution as to the motor or motive power of the heart. The oxygen in the air we breathe coming in contact with the iron corpuscles of the blood, emits electricity, which coming in contact with the heart causes it to contract, and hence the power which expels the blood and sends it through the most remotest arteries. What, then, are the causes of Consumption, Dropsy, Palsy, Paralysis, St. Vitus' Dance, Dispepsia, Epilepsy, Fever and Ague, &c., a deficiency of the red corpuscles containing the iron, sulphur and phosphorus, which causes a deficiency of electricity, and consequently an abnormal circulation. The blood becomes watery, colds and bronchial complaints and consumption ensue—the sufferer becomes nervous, and subject to rheumatic pains and neuralgia—complaints of the liver and kidneys set in, in short, almost every type of disease but virulent fevers may be traced to this deficiency in the blood, of the corpuscles of red globules.

Old age causes a deficiency of corpuscles, and while we do not pretend to say that we have discovered the "elixir vitæ," we do say that life can be materially prolonged by the use of the which restores the red globules, and thus the normal circulation. Consumptives! Friends of consumptives! Sufferers from any organic disease! Unfortunates, who have by excess of the body or mind, reduced the standard of the blood and diminished the red globules: Ladies suffering any of the distresses known as female complaints, be persuaded the "Blood Food" can cure you. It has cured thousands of desperate cases where all hope has been given up. Do not reject it. Do not throw away your only hope. The "Blood Food" is an unfailing remedy, give it a trial.

An elaborate treatise, carrying out and fully proving the theory advanced here to be correct, will be mailed to any interested party, on the receipt of two 1 cent stamps. Blood Food is sold by all Druggists, or where it cannot be had I will send it, free of expense for $4. Price, single bottle, $1. It is put up in one size vials in yellow wrapper—the old kind, in small bottles, in red wrappers having been done away with—and bears the fac-simile signature of Church & Dupont upon the face of the wrapper. Beware of counterfeits and imitations.
